Just Enough to Go Home — Richard 'Daddy' Love

5/16/09

Em D Em D
Another lousy day at the office, Another day gone from my life
Em D Em D
Another fine mess heaped on my desk, Now it's time to go home to the wife
Em D Em D
Guess I got time for a couple, There's a bar on the way to the car
Em D Em D
I find me a place to set my self down, On a stool at the end of the bar
C D C D
Don't want to hear about the weather, Don't want to answer no phone
C D [- - - Instrumental Pause - - - ] G C x2
Bring a few shots of good whiskey, I'm drinking just enough to go home

There's some stupid game on the TV, There's a jerk trying to pick up some chick

His lines are quite lame, well over-used, And he lays them on so damn thick

Don't want to hear about the weather, I don't want to answer no phone

Bring a few shots of good whiskey, I'm drinking just enough to go home

I feel the effects of the whiskey, I have become one with the stool

On good days you're the exception, But most days you are the rule

Don't want to hear about the weather, I don't want to answer no phone

Bring a few shots of good whiskey, I'm drinking just enough to go home

Don't want to hear about the weather, I don't want to answer no phone

Bring a few shots of good whiskey, I'm drinking just enough to go home

Copyright 2009 Richard 'Daddy' Love