

Welcome to the Blues Richard Love 5/7/14

You woke up late this morning, Your woman in some other bed
Your brain was still pounding, From the whiskey in your head
You lost your whole life savings, In a bet that 'just can't loose'
Lost your coolest dark sunglasses, Well brother, welcome to the blues

You find out your man's been cheating, With some hussy at the bar
Lost your job 'cause of cut backs, Just smashed up a brand new car
You seem to make a bad decision, Every time you have to choose
Your favorite TV show's been canceled, Well Sister, welcome to the blues

You sing your song and play your heart out, Through the strings on your guitar
Pour out all your hurt and anger, She drops a bill in your tip jar
She sways her hips to the backbeat, This girl's had a couple brews
Every day's a new adventure, Well Baby, welcome to the blues
